Stars and Stocks Split.
A Happy Moment.
Learning to Live.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.]

FROM South Africa astronomers send word the great star, Nova Pictoris, has split in two.

We are excited on this little earth ball when a big stock "split" two for one. If we were a few billion miles nearer Nova Pictoris, we should have a new meaning for "split." How safely we live in our little corner of space with fearful cataclysms around us. We should be grateful.

THE bears had a happy moment while Wall Street bought and sold 4,875,660 shares of stock, breaking all records since the beginning of time, and General Motors dropped nearly 20 points. They were not so happy when it climbed back again above 190. As Mayor Thompson of Chicago would say, any advice not to sell the stock market short "goes double" for General Motors.

SOME poor bears celebrated by selling "Radio" short. Bulls were ready to buy a quarter of a million shares of that stock. The bears' paws were burned. Radio rose $12.

AMERICAN business men are learning to prolong life. John D. Rockefeller, one of the hardest workers, who has given away half a billion, is well on his way to 90. George F. Baker, one of the world's three richest men, celebrated his eighty-eighth birthday yesterday and will soon come back from Georgia to New York, tired of being away from business.

In the old days of Jay Gould, fighting business men did not live long. They had not learned how to eat or when to exercise.

OGDEN MILLS, assistant secretary of the treasury, tells Yale boys that newspapers are important and "false or lower the tone of national life."

It is national life that raises or lowers the tone of newspapers. Civilization creates them and they reflect civilization. They don't create it.

The editor who thinks he makes the world go round is in a class with the editor of the "Skibbereen Eagle," who said, "We have our eye on the Czar of Russia."

UNITED STATES SENATOR DENNEEN, according to the Associated Press, attended the funeral of "Diamond Joe" Esposito, notorious gang leader, murdered by his followers.

Now Senator Denneen's Chicago house is bombed, presumably by those that disapproved of Esposito.

It seems dangerous for United States senators to attend funerals of gang leaders, even when they are good Republican workers.

POSTMASTER JOHN M. GARRETT of Moulton, Iowa, believes there is no such thing as "the ether," therefore radio cannot travel through ether.

He is instructed to offer ten thousand dollars in gold for substantial proof that ether exists in our atmosphere.

EXISTENCE of ether cannot be physically proved. But scientists, from Newton on, have believed in its existence, for such substance is necessary in connection with the law of gravitation. It would take too long to say why.

Either fills all space. All other substance is unsubstantial compared with it.

WE MUST remember that so-called solid matter is not solid. The atoms making up a lead spoon are as far apart in proportion to their size as the earth from the sun. What Lodge calls "the imponderable ether" is inconceivably solid. Wide open matter passes through the ether as a fisherman's net passes through water.

PENN AVENUE FIGHT LOOMS

Circulate Pro and Con Petitions on Paving Plan.

Petitions favoring and opposing the proposed improvement of Pennsylvania avenue between the Garfield school and the Dry Run Bridge, were being circulated today among property owners for presentation to council Monday night.

By a vote of six to one, council recently approved legislation calling for the repaving of the avenue with brick on a concrete base.

Solons are empowered to authorize street improvements without a petition provided the legislation is approved by three-fourths vote. Councilman E. L. Greene was the only member of the municipal legislative body to oppose the resolution.

All members Local Union No. 9 are requested to attend special meeting Friday, Mar. 30. Lecture by James Duffy, Nat'l. President.

BORAH DEMANDS BONE DRY PLANK

SENATOR WARNS MAJOR PARTIES PLATFORM MUST DEFINE STAND

Demands "Fish or Cut Bait" on Prohibition.

CHARGES "PLOT" Urges Move Upon Kansas City and Houston.

By George R. Holmes. WASHINGTON, March 29.—Senator Wm. E. Borah served notice upon both major parties today that if they attempt to side-step or soft-pedal the issue of prohibition this year there is going to be trouble ahead—and plenty of it.

Speaks to Ohio Women. Great as is the issue of driving corruption from party politics and from government itself, the issue of upholding and enforcing the constitution, I, E. E. the Eighteenth amendment, is greater and more fundamental, the Idaho senator asserted.

Already, he charged, the ruling powers in both Republican and Democratic parties have decided there shall be "a conspiracy of silence" concerning prohibition. To break that conspiracy, he exhorted the dregs of both parties to move upon Kansas City and Houston a few weeks hence and demand that the platform-framers "fish or cut bait" upon the issue of prohibition.

Borah's charges of bi-partisan conspiracy, and his warning that trouble lies ahead if party leaders attempt it, were contained in a remarkable speech which he addressed last night via radio to a group of Ohio women voters.

It caused considerable excitement in the capital today—and considerable uneasiness on the part of Republican leaders. For Borah plans to go to Kansas City himself and conduct the fight for a bone-dry plank in the Republican platform. Realizing Borah's combative powers, and scenting that Gov. A. Smith probably will be the Democratic nominee, Republican leaders are stirring uneasily over the prospect of going to the country next November positively committed to bone-dryness.

Predicating Bitter Campaign. After reviewing the governmental scandals of the last few years, which, he said, had compelled the Republican party "to face its critics humiliated and silenced," Borah declared he did not believe the Kansas City convention would "dare confess its moral delinquency to the world," by refusing to face the issue of constitutional enforcement.

"It looks," he said significantly, "as if we were going to have a bitter campaign in which no man or woman will be spared who comes within reach of the firing line."

"But you will observe that upon the subject of the Eighteenth amendment there is a 'concord of sweet sounds.' Republican voices and Democratic voices are in harmony."

RECKLESS AUTO DRIVERS WARNED

Chief of Police Hugh McDermott today launched a campaign against reckless automobile drivers.

McDermott declared that pedestrians crossing the street in front of a red block have the right of way and that automobile drivers should exercise care in making a turn from a green to a red light.

Speeding near school zones must be discontinued, he warned. Two children are reported to have been narrowly escaped from being struck by an automobile near the St. Aloysius school yesterday. Police are to be assigned to duty near schools.

FIREWORKS CAUSE $25,000 BLAZE

TOLEDO, March 29.—Amid exploding skyrockets, roman candles and firecrackers, firemen early today battled a $25,000 blaze at a warehouse here.

A quantity of fireworks had been stored in the warehouse and firemen were endangered when the stuff became ignited. It remained at their task until the flames were under control. No cause for the fire could be determined.

LIONS PLAN RADIO HOOK-UP ON APRIL 28

Blind to be Guests at Party in Hotel.

NAME COMMITTEE

Arrangements for Affair Made at Dinner Meeting.

Plans for a radio party in the Travelers' hotel room April 28, when the Lions' club will entertain East Liverpool blind persons in connection with a nationwide radio hook-up to be staged by Lions' International were discussed at a dinner-meet last night.

D. J. Savelsberg, Robert Barr, Kenneth Martin and Attorney W. S. Stevenson were named by President C. A. Shafer to arrange details of the party. Program will start at 10 o'clock, Eastern standard time, and will be handled by the National Broadcasting company.

Instrumental selections were rendered last night by trio composed of Kenneth Martin, Andrew Blair, and George Morris. Music was also given by a quartet.

W. H. Shaw and E. W. Shirley were appointed members of the entertainment committee for the next meeting. K. W. Gero was named chairman of the membership campaign committee.

KIN OF TWO MEN SOUGHT IN CITY

O. O. Hausch, Madison, coroner of Lake county, today asked police to assist in locating friends and relatives of Theodore Schiller, who was found dead near Madison yesterday. Schiller is said to be a member of "Local Union No. 530," in Beaver county Pennsylvania.

The Foster company, Wellsville, is also seeking to locate "Peggy" Owens, formerly of that city but who is thought to be working in East Liverpool. Owens' father, Jack Owens, is said to be seriously ill in Wellsville.

New McNary-Haugen Farm Relief Proposal Expected to be Enacted by Senate Next Week

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON. WASHINGTON, March 29.—The new McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, intended as a panacea for America's agricultural ills, was to be taken up today in the senate with indications pointing to its enactment next week by a substantial majority.

In its new compromise form, the bill differed considerably from the measure vetoed by President Coolidge a year ago. It contained the equalization fee feature, written into the former relief bill, but in such an amended form that its authors hope to secure presidential approval.

"The present bill proposed two distinct, and entirely separable remedies," explained Senator McNary (R), of Oregon, author of the bill. First, it provides loans to cooperative associations at a low rate of interest, and second, in case of failure of the first remedy, it provides for the making of marketing agreements, providing that losses on transactions authorized under the agreements would be absorbed by the commodity whose producers receive the direct benefit.

German Fliers Again Postpone Ocean Hop

Unfavorable Weather Conditions and Sogginess of Baldonnel Airfield Delay Take-off for America in Junkers Plane.

DUBLIN, March 29.—Because of unfavorable weather conditions and the sogginess of the ground at the Baldonnel airfield, Captain Hermann Koehl and his two companions today were forced again to postpone their take-off for America in the Junkers monoplane Bremen.

Everything was in readiness for the hop-off at five o'clock, the time set for the start today, and the fliers were loath to announce another postponement.

The plane had been trundled from its hangar a few hours before dawn and placed on the long wooden runway specially built for the take-off.

Mechanics had given the machine a final grooming and covered all parts with paraffin to keep the formation of sleet during the flight down to a minimum.

It had rained during the night, however, and when Koehl, Baron Von Huenefeld and Relief Pilot Arthur Spindler came on the field, they found the ground in an extremely soggy condition.

After scanning late weather reports, which were anything but favorable, the fliers reluctantly announced the postponement of the flight.

NEWSPAPER MAN MAY GET TOGA

LANSING, Mich., March 29.—Gov. Fred W. Green today declined to confirm a report published in a Detroit newspaper that he had appointed Arthur H. Vandenberg, Grand Rapids publisher, United States senator to succeed Woodbridge N. Ferris.

"I have made no appointment," the governor said, "and I have told no one whom I would appoint."

ESCAPED CONVICT SHOT TO DEATH

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—Enmeshed in a police dragnet laid to trap the bandits who killed a theatre manager and wounded a 17-year-old girl patron here recently, James Catina, 21, escaped convict from Newark, N. J., was shot to death early today after a desperate gun battle with three detectives.

Indiana Man Shot To Death. RICHMOND, Ind., March 29.—Harry Marsh, 30, was found dead at the rear of his home here today with a bullet hole between his eyes. The fact that there were no powder marks and that a gun was not found near the body led authorities here to suspect that the man had been murdered.

Hayes, editor of a local weekly, twice candidate for vice-president, on the Socialist ticket in 1900 and the Farmer-Labor ticket in 1920, has refused the chairmanship of the third party's executive committee for this year's election because he said although "in sympathy with the third party movement, a presidential year is no time to launch a party," it was revealed today.

Hayes told the Farmer-Labor party to elect congressmen and senators, build up an organization and educate the public for four years, and then launch a presidential drive.

BANKER LOSES NERVE IN PLAN TO KILL SELF AT MANSFIELD

Report $25,000 Shortage in Institution at Lucas.

EXAMINERS ACT

G. E. Gladdin Goes to Richland County Jail.

MANSFIELD, O., March 29.—G. E. Gladdin, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants bank of Lucas, near here was held in the county jail here today, following the closing of the bank by the state banking department. It is believed that a shortage of approximately $25,000 exists.

Shortage Confessed. Gladdin wandered about during the night and contemplated suicide, Sheriff Schad reported in explaining Gladdin's presence at the Richland county jail. His nerve failed him, Schad said, and he surrendered at the jail instead.

The Richland county prosecutor with state bank officials are at Lucas, investigating a shortage said to have been confessed by Gladdin after his arrival at the county jail today.

The bank was organized in 1905 and on Feb. 23, 1928 reported resources of $240,887.

H. F. Smart is president of the bank.

Embezzlement Charged. Charges of embezzlement of making false reports to state bank examiners were to be filed against Gladdin late today, it was announced by county state bank authorities.

The shortages, it is believed, will be traced over a period of three years. Gladdin, it is said, shouldered the entire blame, and said the money was used to buy shares in, and to partly finance the now defunct, Niagara Manufacturing company, manufacturer of wooden goods at Lucas. Gladdin is married and has two children.

Deed Parsons, Wellsville, is in jail awaiting sentence upon a charge of non-support of his seven-month-old son, Donald Allen Parsons. The affidavit was signed by his wife, Mrs. Geneva Parsons.

Edgar Brown, arrested upon complaint of Nathan Cornish, Second street bottler, who charges him with fraud, will be given a hearing before Judge Hanley at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. His term of suspension will end on April 12.

SHIPPERS HIT MONACA SPAN

Rochester Interests Oppose Proposed River Bridge.

BEAVER, Pa., March 29.—Objections to the Monaca-Rochester span proposed by county commissioners were registered at a hearing before Major Jarvis J. Bain, U. S. district engineer, Pittsburgh.

Principal opponents of the project were the borough of Rochester, shipping interests and pupils' association. It was asserted that the pier of the bridge would interfere with Rochester wharves. County Engineer T. J. Wilkerson expressed the opinion that the bridge pier would not harm the utility of Rochester's dockage facilities.

Petition objecting to the placing of the pier at Rhode Island avenue because of danger to wharves was read by Attorney L. M. Sebring, borough solicitor for Rochester.

Ballots For Absentees

East Liverpool Republican women, whose interest in politics has equalled, if not surpassed, mere man's since the Nineteenth amendment became effective, intend to do their utmost to persuade both sexes to go to the polls on Tuesday, April 24, when Ohio electors will select delegates to the national and state conventions and express preference for presidential candidates.

Plans for getting out the vote were discussed at a meeting of the women in the Carnegie library Tuesday night, and judging from the enthusiasm of the mothers, wives and sisters they will cast no small share of the ballots in Columbiana county next month.

And while on the subject of voting, in which American citizens have shown marked apathy in recent elections, Columbiana county electors should not overlook their rights under the absent voter's enactment.

Polls are now open under the law, enacted in 1917, which permits an enfranchised citizen to cast his ballot although he may be hundreds of miles distant from his home precinct on election day. If the voter expects to be absent on business or pleasure, he or she is entitled to ballots. And the necessary supplies will be mailed to his or her temporary address upon application.

Don't disfranchise yourself.

Working Hours for Women

In Massachusetts, New York and Pennsylvania disputes have arisen concerning the hour laws for women workers. In South Carolina there has been introduced in the legislature a 48-hour bill for "textile and similar" industries.

In Massachusetts the Associated Industries and the New England council have sponsored bills to amend the 48-hour law to permit women in the textile industry to work at night until 10 o'clock.

New York's 48-hour law, which became operative on January 1, this year, is the target of several newly introduced measures in the general assembly, and in Pennsylvania an informal opinion by the state attorney general places laundries as manufacturing establishments, which exempts them from provisions of the state night-work law.

And while the legislatures of several states are fighting about the hours for women workers, a bill has been placed in the hopper of the New York assembly which would exact a two per cent tax from the net earnings of married women engaged in industry or professional work, whose husbands' incomes are in excess of $2,000 a year.

This proposal was disapproved unanimously at the annual convention of the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs last month.

Thus, the women, despite their enfranchisement, despite their equal rights, still are the center of controversies in business and industry. But in spite of the forward strides they have made in personal liberty and equal rights, it still is necessary that they be protected to some degree by rigid laws, or else unscrupulous slave drivers will capitalize on the fact that many women are compelled to find employment at any wage, and regardless of working hours or conditions.

Consider the lot of the American woman worker in industry, as compared with the women of India, where 28,615 of them work underground in coal and salt mines, and 18,616 of them do men's work on the surface.

In Palestine, however, a law, shortly to go into effect, forbids employment of women in any industry between the hours of 10 p. m. and 5 a. m., except in certain specified instances where they are essential to the success of the enterprise.

Irrespective of the outcome of the controversies in New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts concerning women in industry, one feels that some safeguards should be thrown about them by the several states, similar to Ohio's safeguards, for instance, if the flower of the land is not to become case-hardened and dragged down to the level of the women of Russia or some of the other lands where "equal rights" mean exactly that, and nothing more.

Removing Peril of Fog

Within a very short time it is believed most of the difficulty caused by fog on the eastern end of the transcontinental air mail route—from Cleveland to New York—will have been eliminated by means of radio beacons, these beacons to operate on a dial on the instrument board of the mail plane to show the pilot where he is on his course.

Until recently the beacons always have operated audibly by means of ear phones. The dial is considered a great improvement. A new type of beacon also will be set up in the mountainous country of Pennsylvania by the United States department of commerce and operated for a time to determine its value. It is the belief this new beacon will be even more successful than the present type. This new series of beacons will consist of radio broadcasting sets of low power placed every three miles along the route.

By means of growing and diminishing strength of the signals, and overlapping, the pilot will always know where he is, and if he does not get any signal at all will realize he is off the course and by circling about, will be enabled to pick them up and thus right himself.

There are also experiments under way now with a new kind of paint or "dope" which will prevent ice forming on the wings of the mail ships. This is one of the greatest dangers of winter flying. The ice forms on the planes only between 31 and 33 degrees. When it is colder the moisture forms snow and it blows off, and when it is warmer the moisture merely is rain.

Thus, slowly, to be sure, but none the less methodically are devices being perfected for the further protection of airmen. Experiments which are made in the mail service and found to be worth while, will, naturally, be used in all other forms of aviation. So, ultimately, these experiments now under way will be brought into common usage for the benefit of everyone.

Astronomers are saying now that there's more likelihood of life on the planet Venus than on Mars. Naturally, since Venus is the goddess of life and Mars the god of destruction.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29.—Four years from this fall, all the representatives in congress of 16 states and 24 of those from 12 other states may be elected at large instead of from individual districts.

This will come to pass if congress passes the new congressional apportionment bill that has been reported by the house committee on the census and if the legislatures of the states affected have not redistricted those states in accordance with the new apportionment prior to the election of the 73d congress, which comes in 1932. Those states will continue to elect their representatives at large until the redistricting has been effected, and if their legislatures are as slow about that as congress has been about enacting a new apportionment law, 177 members of the house will be in this new relation to their constituencies for seven or eight years at least.

From time to time there has been considerable of a hullabaloo over the failure of congress to enact a law readjusting state representation in the house. However, the constitution does not say explicitly when congress must pass its reapportionment measures or what shall be done about it if congress fails to act, so it seems nothing can be done but wait for congress to dispose of the matter in its own good time. Similarly, while the apportionment law has always provided that representatives shall be elected by districts, the house has always seated members elected at large by states where the legislatures have been unable to agree upon redistricting laws. Thus Illinois now has two representatives at large.

Reasons for delay in acting in this matter are all summed up in the fact that several of the states must lose one or more seats in the house in an apportionment based on the population the country has had for a decade or more unless the total membership of the body is increased, and there is vigorous opposition to that. Every state will fight to the last ditch against having its delegation reduced, and since the 1920 census the states so affected have been able to prevent the passage of a reapportionment measure.

The new bill now before the house is anticipatory of the 1930 census and retains the present total membership of the house—435. It provides that immediately after the census has been taken the secretary of commerce shall transmit to congress a tabulation showing the number of representatives to which each state is entitled under a reapportionment. If congress fails to re-apportion in accord with that statement, all states, it is provided, shall be entitled to the new allotments automatically in the 73d congress, which will be elected in November, 1932.

Twenty-four seats in the house are involved in the proposed apportionment as it is figured out on the basis of the latest estimates as to what the populations of the several states will be in 1930. Sixteen states will in the aggregate lose 24 representatives, while 12 states will gain that number. Missouri will lose the largest number—4—while California will gain the largest number—6. States that will be thrown for a loss, so to speak, are Alabama 1, Iowa 2, Indiana 2, Kansas 1, Kentucky 2, Louisiana 1, Maine 1, Massachusetts 1, Mississippi 2, Missouri 4, Nebraska 1, New York 2, North Dakota 1, Tennessee 1, Vermont 1, and Virginia 1.

States that will gain these 24 seats in the house are Arizona 1, Connecticut 1, California 6, Florida 1, Michigan 4, Montana 1, New Jersey 2, North Carolina 1, Ohio 3, Oklahoma 1, Texas 2 and Washington 1.

To furnish to all battle-ships and cruisers and other vessels, when necessary a detachment for guard duty and also to assist in the handling of the ships' guns. A mobile force is also always held in readiness at the Marine Barracks as the first line for foreign service when the occasion may arise. The Corps is organized as prescribed for Infantry and Artillery (serving dismounted) in the Army Regulations. Officers and men wear the same designating rank as the Army with some slight exceptions, and are armed with the service pistol and rifle.

Q. Is horse meat so labeled? C. A. C.

A. The labeling of horse meat comes under the Federal Meat Inspection Laws and the stamping must contain the word "horse."

East Liverpool Review Offers a Booklet On Removal of stains

Make your clothes last longer. This can be accomplished by removing the spots and stains as soon as they appear.

Hot water takes out fruit stains, but if you use it on a milk or egg stain it "drives it in" and makes it worse. Soap on the other hand, takes out grease spots and makes fruit stains worse.

Write our Washington Bureau today for the booklet that tells how to remove 88 different kinds of stains. Enclose four cents in stamps to cover return postage and handling charge.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Broadway will brook no successors. When a popular idol passes, a substitute is met with a stifled yawn. It has been tried time after time with the same impossible result. Broadway makes its own heroes and heroines and wants no imitations.

Recently they tried to bring another Florence Mills to the world of cabarets, but the unforgettable memory of that wifely, dusky singer would not be downed. Stage partners who have lost their mates team up again and try to carry on with the same futility.

Broadway's loyalty is of the sort that if a performer hits upon an original idea and clicks and someone does it even better the attitude is Moran-and-Mackish. Even if it was good, they wouldn't like it. The answer is personality.

Nobody has been able to imitate personality. It has that indefinable quality that cannot be duplicated. There was a long list of professional dancers who tried to follow the twinkling capers of the Castles. Some were superior dancers.

But Vernon was the first of this light footed quid and the glimmer of that. In the same fashion Ziegfeld remains the old master of the musical revue. No player has had so many imitations as Al Jolson. Many of them had better voices, but they could not put that certain something across the footlights like Jolson.

Film producers admit that could they flush out a successor to Valentino, their fortune would be made. All Latin-American countries have been combed for a replica. They have been carefully groomed, but the public does not forget. They still want Rudy.

Indeed these efforts seem merely to create a keener longing for the original. In a way it is a heartening attitude for the man or woman who creates and wins plaudits. They need have no fear some one will come along and take their place, on Broadway at least.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

In a dispatch from Rome the other day it was stated that Mussolini the Italian dictator, is an extremely simple eater. At a banquet he attended recently there were served all the delicacies of all the seasons. But the premier ate simply, as follows:

Consomme, boiled fish, plain veal cutlet, mashed potatoes and stewed fruit. His beverages were even simpler—one glass of mineral water.

It is well known that the Duce never uses alcohol or tobacco. He is extremely abstemious.

Of course, no one need feel sorry for Mussolini. He took plenty of food and excellent food at that. But there was plenty, in quantity and variety.

Not so long ago I had breakfast at the White House. Perhaps it may not be amiss to tell you what was served. That will give you an idea of what the President eats.

The rest of us began with grape fruit. The President took orange juice.

Then came the cereal. It was cream of wheat, a very small portion. I judge about two tablespoonsful. Rich cream was served with this.

The next course consisted of scrambled eggs and bacon. I noticed that the president ate one slight strip of bacon and an extremely small helping of egg.

After this came the famous griddle cakes and country sausage. They were whole cakes, not buckwheat cakes, and were served with delicious but thin Vermont maple syrup.

The sausages were in small patties, of which the president took one, and a single griddle cake. He is a very light eater.

The coffee was good and the toast nicely browned. All in all, it was a very excellent meal. My criticism of it is that it had one more course than a breakfast for office men need have.

Now you know what two great men have to eat. They enjoy food just like ordinary humans do. But I must say for them, they are much simpler in their habits than are many public men.

I have in mind now another popular public character who was an enormous eater. I have looked at him in amazement as he took in vast quantities of food. He would eat at one meal as much as Mussolini and Coolidge would eat in a whole day.

What happened to him? He died from acute indigestion. Men of sedentary habits cannot gorge themselves with food and live out what might be a much longer expectation of life. If you would live long and have your greatest usefulness while you do live, you must eat simply.

Overeating is one of the most common causes for shortened life. Choose your food carefully and eat in moderation. In this advice lies length of days.

Once Overs

Have You This Man in Your Employ? A word to the employer:

Perhaps you have a man in your establishment who has given years of faithful service to your concern.

He has reached the point where he can only do certain unimportant duties.

But his financial condition may be such that he needs every penny that he can procure.

He still has pride and a desire to work and to be worth what he is paid for his services.

Don't discharge him. He hasn't much left in life to interest him.

Losing his job would be the last straw. It will not take much from your balance sheet to retain this man.

The fact that he has been with you so long indicates you got the best he had in him for service.

Now is the time to show your appreciation. Copyright, 1928, International Feature Service, Inc.

Flower of Terrorism.

Underworld terrorism in Chicago reaches its alarming climax in the bombing of the residence of United States Senator Dinesen. It is not to be supposed that the Chicago bandits and gunmen had any personal grudge against the senator. His home was marked for destruction merely because such a crime would best advertise the desperate purposes of those who engineered the crime.

That spells terrorization, and if Chicago bows to the blow her honor as a community is gone and her slavery acknowledged.

In an era of lawlessness Chicago has become the least law-abiding of the world's great cities. Murder has become a profession and a fairly safe one. Law enforcement is an idle phrase.

It ill behooves any American city to cast too many stones in Chicago's direction. We all have sins enough of this kind to answer for without adding that of assuming a moral superiority that may not exist.

It seems a fair observation in relation to Chicago, however, that nowhere else in America has the inevitable relationship between fetid politics and lawlessness been illustrated in recent months. A community willing to endure the kind of administration that rules over Chicago must expect, whether willing or not, to endure the kind of underworld domination that finds logical expression in the bombing of a senator's home.

Chicago is what Chicagoans choose to make it. The city is a self-governing political unit.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Your Hands Speak

By Edna Wallace Hopper.
While you perform hundreds of commonplace tasks everyone present watches your hands.

You pour tea. You open your purse. You shake hands with an acquaintance. You put on your gloves. All day long people watch your hands.

Do your hands speak for you? Do they suggest daintiness? They can be firm, capable and at the same time exquisitely kept with practically no effort. Youth Lotion is rubbed into the skin, leaving your hands smooth and dry, so that you can wear gloves immediately after applying.

Just keep a bottle on your dressing table and one where you work (in your kitchen, your office or shop). Use it every time you wash your hands.

The pleasurable sense of feeling your skin so satiny—of seeing it so soft and white—is worth a good deal more than the slight effort. The cost is trivial. You can get a large bottle of my Youth Hand Lotion at any toilet counter, 60 cents.

Miss Sara Reinartz.

HOW TO FIGHT EXCESS FAT

There are hard ways, like starvation, but fewer and fewer employ them. There is a pleasant way, modern and scientific, which combats the cause. A vast number of people now use it. And the slender figures now seen everywhere are largely due to that.

That method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. And everybody, in almost every circle, sees the change. New beauty, new health, new vitality.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. So users have no fear of harm. Learn the facts about Marmola, because of the good it has done. Ask your druggist—now—for a $1 box with the book. Then decide.

Seek Farm Relief

tions or their corporations would be eligible for membership in these associations.

4—When investigation shows any crop's prices are threatened by a huge surplus and that the "loan" provisions have failed, to market any such surplus of the commodity for the ensuing or subsequent years by means of marketing agreements with cooperative association.

5—Enter such "marketing agreements" for the purpose of either helping a cooperative association to withhold the surplus from the market, or to finance a cooperative in purchasing the whole or a part of the surplus and later selling it in better time. All losses from these transactions would be paid out of the stabilization fund, which would be reimbursed by the equalization fee.

6—Purchase any crop surplus on its own account to hold it off the market or to dispose of it as conditions warrant.

7—Terminate any such "marketing agreement," by majority vote, if farmers disregard the board's advice on a program of planting or breeding of any commodity.

Debate Starts Monday.
8—Impose the equalization fee on any crop in which a "marketing agreement" has been negotiated, the fee to be paid either on "the transportation, processed or sale" of the commodity. The equalization fee shall be fixed at a sum sufficient to make each unit of any commodity "bear its equitable share of the losses, costs, and charges arising out of such agreements."

9—Collect, by federal court action, the equalization fee, plus a 50 per cent penalty, from any persons failing to collect or pay it.

10—Insure any cooperative association against price declines for a twelve month period, providing the commodity dealt in has a "recognized basis price."

Debate on the bill will start Monday and supporters of the measure predict its enactment before the end of next week.

TWO DOGS GUARD BODY OF WOMAN

CLEVELAND, March 29.—Police were forced to fight off two dogs here before they could touch the body of Mrs. Lottie Hansen, who lay dead from influenza.

STATE CLOSES LUCAS BANK

Examiners Estimate Shortage Will Total $25,000.

COLUMBUS, O., March 29.—The Farmers' and Merchants' bank of Lucas, Richland county, was closed by State Bank Superintendent E. H. Blair. It was announced here today, following reported shortages.

Bank examiners with Col. C. W. Miller, liquidation agent, left Columbus for Lucas last night.

The bank was organized in 1905, and on Feb. 28, 1928, reported resources of $240,877.10.

W. F. Smart is president and G. E. Gladdin is cashier.

The shortage of the bank will approximate $25,000, it was estimated following report of examiners.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 29.—Irregularity, with a further toning down of speculative activity on the big board, characterized the early trading today. All of the motor stocks sold lower in the first half-hour, General Motors dropping 2 1/2 points and the low-priced motor shares a point each. The rails and oils were quiet, with New York Central and Sinclair leading a moderate advance in their respective groups. Radio sold up 2 1/2 points and the Can stocks were strong.

The usual Thursday hesitation and uncertainty concerning the condition of brokers' loans to be reported after the close of the market was augmented by the month-end tightening up of the money market in preparation for the April quarterly settlements next week. Interest and dividend payments this year will be unusually heavy, but this will eventually mean a larger fund of investment cash for the bond and stock markets.

Hundreds Rise in Silent Homage After Dr. Broomfield Speaks on "Wonderful Christ"

Their emotions profoundly stirred, men, women and children comprising an audience that overflowed into two galleries and adjacent Sunday school room rose en masse in silent homage to Christianity's author following a masterly portrayal of Jesus Christ as the world's outstanding personage by Dr. J. C. Broomfield of Pittsburgh, in the third of five discourses this week at the union revival in the First Methodist Protestant church last evening. His theme was "The Wonderful Christ."

Basing his comments on the first of five names given the Christ by Isaiah in the sixth verse of the ninth chapter of his prophecy, "And his name shall be wonderful," the speaker submitted three witnesses to speak the right to such a Cornmen: the Bible, the 1928 years comprising the Christian Civilization and the evidence of the human heart knowing His as Saviour. The instantaneous rising action of his hearers comprised a verdict of the evidence he submitted to them as from every experience of mankind and from high and low estate it took form in varying degrees of emphasis.

The invocation was made by Dr. Warren O. Hawkins, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, the concluding prayer being by Dr. Broomfield, while Rev. L. J. Davidson, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, gave the benediction.

Rowland Kaufman sang "The Ninety and Nine," accompanied by Miss Jessie Hall, who also acted as accompanist during the preliminary singing which Rev. George Westlake, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue M. E. church, directed.

Rev. John F. Dimitt, the pastor, presiding announced this evening as Young People's Night when their organizations will attend as units.

"It is unchristian for church folk to attend these services and go away saying 'we have enjoyed them and had a good time.' Christ did not come to earth to have a good time but to seek and save the lost," declared Dr. Broomfield at the conclusion of his sermon.

"You as He did should draw all men to Him. You should bring those without the fold here. It is they who need the gospel."

Dr. Broomfield declared at the outset of his address that the greatest need of mankind was not finance, education and worldly allurements but "to know Jesus Christ better, appreciate Him more keenly and realize Him more completely for He transcends all other wants of the human heart."

Quotes Great Men.
He quoted Lord Balfour, Napoleon Gladstone, the historian Bancroft and other great men who attributed to Jesus Christ the acclaim of the world's incentive and objective.

"I challenge any to show a single humanitarian departure that has not been the direct result of His ideals," Dr. Broomfield declared. He told of the radio arrangements in the Bob Jones tabernacle in Pittsburgh a few years ago which sent the doings there in all over the world. "And what did they sing?" he queried. "The Lord God Almighty Reigns," he replied. "What else could be sung at such a moment? Any other song would have been a fizzle."

He reached heights of adulation and declaration as he told of the third of his witnesses "the human heart that has found the Christ."

Dr. Broomfield unqualifiedly declared his belief in the virgin birth of the Christ.

He depicted scientific tendencies to dogmatically deny spiritual truths.

LINDY LEAVES LEXINGTON, KY.

Lone Eagle Believed to be Bound for Washington.

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 29.—Col. Charles Lindbergh hopped off from here today at 11:21, Eastern Standard time. The Lone Eagle took off in a westerly direction after reaching flying altitude, but reports were that he was expected at Washington, D. C.

The famous colonel's arrival was entirely unexpected and there was much excitement in the city last night. The last time he was here was a number of years ago, before his trans-Atlantic flight.

He refused to appear in public and spent the night at the home of Dr. Scott Breckenridge, brother of Col. Henry Breckenridge, his personal attorney and adviser.

Passengers in his Ryan plane, besides Col. Breckenridge, were Major Thomas Langhler, commander of the first pursuit squadron, Selfridge field, Mt. Clemens, Mich.; Capt. E. S. Land, assistant chief of the bureau of aeronautics of the navy, and O. R. Root Jr., 14-year-old stepson of Col. Breckenridge.

TWO WOMEN FAIL IN JAIL-BREAK

MARYSVILLE, O., March 29.—Mrs. Lucille Garvey, 23, alias Virginia Hall, of Cleveland, will probably be crippled for life as a result of her attempt to escape from the women's reformatory here today, and Miss Beulah Fowler, 22, of Columbus, will be placed in solitary confinement. The latter was a partner in the attempted escape of Mrs. Garvey.

The two women it is said, made a rope out of blankets, in which to effect their delivery from the second floor dormitory in which they were quartered.

When Miss Fowler slid down the rope she was sighted by another inmate of the institution who screamed. The scream gave the alarm and caused Mrs. Garvey who was watching the descent of Miss Fowler to fall from the second story window.

Demands Dry Plank

ocratic voices blend in exquisite harmony.

"A few months ago certain Republicans were going to force a plank for the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment, and certain Democrats were going to do likewise in the Democratic party—but where there once were vigorous voices now no sound stirs the stagnant air which envelops the council chamber."

Amendment Neutral Territory.
"The men who understand practical politics are agreed. No matter how fierce the battle elsewhere, the Eighteenth amendment is neutral territory—and the antagonists meet for consultation and congratulation. What is the constitution between enemies?"

With almost evangelistic fervor, Borah exhorted his hearers to "move on Kansas City and Houston."

"Insist upon being heard before the committees," he said. "Knock at the doors of committee rooms. What they are doing there concerns you. It is your affairs they are passing on. They are your agents."

"There will be an effort to adopt planks so meaningless and so cheerless that the voters have no choice."

"The first battle in the struggle ahead should be at Kansas City and Houston, and the next on the idea of November."

USE AIRPLANES TO PICKET MINES

PITTSBURGH, March 29.—The United Mine Workers of America have used an airplane in their picketing of the non-union miners, it was learned here today.

A plane was sent over several non-union camps this week. Circulars, urging the strike-breakers to quit work and join the union, were dropped.

EDDIE STINSON STILL ALOFT

Airman and Pal Predict They Will Break Record.

JACKSONVILLE BEACH, Fla., March 29.—Twenty-four hours in the air, Eddie Stinson and George Hauman were still aloft early this morning in their huge monoplane and apparently are headed for a new world's endurance flight. They took off yesterday morning.

All through the night the drone of their motor kept watchers on the beach awake. Perfect weather prevailed, and the forecast was favorable for today.

They were flying at an altitude of about 2,000 feet this morning, and making about 75 miles an hour.

The aviators dropped a message this morning stating that the Stinson-Detroiter was using less fuel than they had anticipated and they were confident of breaking the record.

WEST VIRGINIAN ON RADIO BOARD

WASHINGTON, March 29.—President Coolidge today nominated Ira E. Robinson, of Grafton, W. Va., to be a member of the federal radio commission, the life of which was extended until March 15, 1929, this week by congress.

Robinson is an attorney, who has been connected with the department of justice here for several years. He handled most of the legal work in connection with the government's purchase of the Cape Cod canal.

He was named to succeed Admiral W. H. Bullard, who died several months ago.

BAND BENEFIT NETS $608.75

Kiwanis to Purchase Uniforms for School Musicians.

Members of the board of directors of the Kiwanis club will cooperate with school officials in the selection of new uniforms for members of the high school band, as the result of action taken at today's luncheon in the grill room of the Travelers' hotel.

President Ralph Couch named R. C. Heddleston, Walter Hill and C. C. Ashbaugh as members of a committee to draft resolutions of respect for the late Joshua Poole. Members of the club stood in silence for one minute out of respect for Mr. Poole, who died Monday.

R. J. McElravy, chairman of the inter-club relations committee, discussed plans for a joint ceremonial with members of the Beaver Kiwanis club when a road marker will be placed at the Pennsylvania-Ohio line.

Walter Hill told of Kiwanis club meetings which he attended while visiting in California. Frank Swaney discussed road improvement work and the movement to establish an airport in the district.

Dr. Justin E. Hayes, in a statement issued at the Coolidge-Dickinson hospital, said his patient had spent an uncomfortable night, and as a result Mrs. Coolidge deferred her morning visit.

ALLEGED KILLER SHOTS HIMSELF

WALKILL, N. Y., March 29.—Harry McHugh, local postmaster sought for the murder of a 19-year-old telephone operator, seriously wounded himself with his own gun today when cornered in a lumber yard.

McHugh was taken to his home, where his death was momentarily expected.

He fled Tuesday after Marie Terwilliger was killed in the doorway of the telephone exchange. McHugh's younger brother, Jesse, was to marry the girl.

State troopers scoured the countryside until this morning, when a tip led them to the outskirts of town.

The postmaster, who was a shell-shocked war veteran, was seen hiding behind a lumber pile. As the three troopers closed in about him, he drew his revolver and shot himself in the head.

FORD CALLED AS WITNESS IN COAL INQUIRY

Motor King Will Take Stand Next Week.

QUIZ ON WAGES

Reports Say he Pays Miners More Than Scale.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Another millionaire industrial leader, Henry Ford, was on the senate coal committee's witness list today.

Ford is not expected to testify for a week or ten days as the committee already has enough witnesses on hand to fill all the seats in the hearing room. The investigation probably will last for another month at least.

The committee already has heard three millionaire witnesses in John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Charles M. Schwab, and R. B. Mellon of Pittsburgh, brother of Secretary of Treasury Mellon.

Ford will be questioned about reports he is paying higher than the union scale in his southern West Virginia mines. He operates under the name of the Fordson Coal company.

Constitutional power of the committee to investigate the coal industry was to be argued today by attorneys for southern West Virginia operators. They challenge the committee's authority on the ground that production of coal is not interstate commerce.

SCREEN STARS ON AIR TONIGHT

Besides Fairbanks, those who will be heard are Charles Chaplin, Norma Talmadge, John Barrymore, Dolores Del Rio and the producer, D. W. Griffith.

TODAY

YOU cannot prove the existence of ether, or see electricity, or demonstrate the existence of eternal law. But the mind accepts them as realities.

The wise man agrees with Socrates, who said: "I know that I know nothing."

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE will decide, within a week, how much should be cut from your taxes, $200,000,000 perhaps.

Place Home of Mr. and

Campbell, arrangements are being completed for the celebration to be held tomorrow afternoon at the William Rice home, Johnson place, in honor of the sixty-second wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Rice. The former is 87 years old; the latter, 85. In recent years, the aged couple

Wedding anniversary gifts, of money, groceries, foodstuffs, or anything in that general line will be received, the committee announces, and explains also that gifts may be arranged with the committee by telephone. The hours will be from 1 to 4. A short program will be given at 2 o'clock, including songs and readings. Light refreshments will be served. Mrs. Rice, nee Margaret Ellen Mercer, became the bride of William Rice on March 30, 1866, at Gallipolis. They lived for a number of years at Silver Run, Meigs county, and, after residing at several other places, moved to Wellsville.

SPECIAL SERVICE

Campaign to Raise
$7,000 Scheduled
For Summer.

Rev. J. A. Stewart, pastor of the Nazarene mission, today announced the completion of plans and specifications for the transformation of the mission into a church with the construction of a $10,000 tabernacle at the corner of Eighth and Wood streets. Ground for the structure, which will be permanent, will be broken not later than next Tuesday, according to Rev. Stewart. More than $3,000, or approximately a third of the total amount that will be needed to cover the cost of the structure, the lot and equipment, has been subscribed without solicitation, according to the pastor who is now engaged in plans for a campaign to raise the remainder.

Site for the church was purchased from Rio Rogers. Portion of the ground 60 by 100 feet, was laid out for the church lot, and another small section was leased by the church to the Stevens and Wood Construction Co., Youngstown, which is installing electrical high tension apparatus in the district.

Arrange Special Services. The church building itself will measure 44 by 60 feet. It will be built on a block foundation over a base of reinforced concrete.

When completed it will seat approximately 400, according to present estimates. Campaign to raise funds to meet costs will be launched at the tent meetings to be held in June and July. A four-week series of services is being arranged.

Tent seating approximately 800 persons has been obtained by Rev. Stewart.

Floyd Nease, president of the Eastern Nazarene college, and his father, W. O. Nease, of Columbus, will have charge of the services.

Rev. Stewart is now engaged in plans for the three-week services that will open next Tuesday night in charge of Rev. Lawrence Reed, of Damascus.

Baseball Men See Close American League Chase This Year

Yankees Will Get Hard Race

Pitching and Hitting of Champs Expected to Weaken.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, March 29.—One of the best bets of the day is that the world's champion New York Yankees will not be bowed politely into another American league pennant this year; that, if they win again, which is entirely plausible, they will be pursued up to the wire, not escorted, and that they may even experience a few bad moments en route.

This is not written because the Yanks are blowing a lot of exhibition games in the south. It represents, in fact, the dispassionate opinion of smart baseball men, who pay exactly no attention to exhibition records. These, after all, come within the general meaning of a swell practice put. The Yankees have the stuff and sooner or later it will come out like a pardoned convict.

But there is a well founded suspicion that the pitching they had and the hitting they knew last year are no more, and never again will be. They still figure to get plenty of both, of course; enough, in fact, so that the man doesn't live who would beat against them as a pennant prospect. The only thing is that the league is somewhat better and the Yanks are somewhat worse.

Any baseball man, for example, will lay odds that Ruth and Gehrig don't hit all those home runs again. They say that one of them may repeat but never both. It may be mentioned that Ruth and Gehrig have hit precisely none so far.

The Yanks themselves will bet you that they don't beat the St. Louis Browns nearly as many times as they did last year. Their 1927 record against the Browns was a baseball miracle and those kind of things just don't happen more than once. It accounted for not a small portion of the Yankees' 1927 home lead at the pay off. Much of their early success, too, was due to the prostrate character of the Boston Red Sox. The latter may be none too vertical yet but Bill Carrigan's influence is beginning to percolate and the Sox figure to win more games from everybody, including the Yankees.

The prospects for the American league race, of course, indicate no little lack of general balance. This, however, is not confined to the admitted contenders which, until proved otherwise, must be regarded as having improved their hands before the draw.

The Detroit Tigers, for instance, were one of the reigning disappointments of the 1927 race, due to one thing or another and mostly both. Chronic injuries might account for this in part but not altogether. The Tigers just didn't click. Yet they have the class and nobody is looking for them to finish so far off the pace this time. If they don't, it will mean that they have won considerably more games than they did last year and these will have to come from somewhere. The Yankees won't furnish all of them and they won't furnish none of them, either. A tighter race means a contribution from everybody to the club that happens to get up there.

The other contenders, Washington and the Athletics, either have improved their chances or everyone is being fooled. Maybe, as alleged, Cobb and Speaker won't help Combs; I can't see them hurting him much at that. However, in the last analysis, the club's advance must come from its pitching and, frankly, there is no reason to expect that it will blow as badly as it did in the early months of the last campaign. As for the Senators, an outfit with their kind of pitching can't go very far wrong and a good bet is that it won't.

SPORT NEWS AND VIEWS

By the Sports Editor.

FORT WAYNE'S one victory over the New York Celtics in the recent American Professional Basketball league championship series, undoubtedly cost East Liverpool fans an opportunity to see the noted eastern court combine in action on a local floor.

Had the Celtics taken three in a row from the western division champs, they would have been able to book in here for the forepart of this week. As it was they were forced to return to New York for the final scuffle and, naturally, the expense of bringing them here from their home port would have been too great.

Bill Powell, former Central league, who fostered the idea of putting the Celtics into action here, saw their game with the Morris, in Pittsburgh Saturday night.

Afterward, sports writers there asked him to compare the Celtics with the best of the Central league had. Powell, however, was more or less non-committal on that one, although expressed no small amount of admiration for the famed eastern combine.

MANAGERS of the city's various recreation baseball squads are bringing their forces together again for the coming campaign. While it had been played to a very small extent here in former years, the game was introduced in the district on an organized basis last year and was successful beyond the expectations of promoters.

The newspaper league of 12 teams operated through the entire season without a hitch and besides these dozen clubs, there were probably that many more in the district.

A number of the clubs have already held reorganization meetings or are planning to hold them in the near future. Two or three leagues would not be impossible here this year in view of the unusual amount of interest that players are showing even at this stage of the season.

COMMUNITY league boys undoubtedly will be back in the circuit again this season. At least two of the teams that played last year have tentatively talked things over for the coming summer, possibly more.

The Community league enjoyed its first season last year and although the final series was not played off, had, in all, a very good year of it.

WITH CITY Industrial league moguls putting their respective feet down on wholesale importation of slars this year and promulgating a movement to encourage home talent, there should be plenty of opportunity this summer for prospective battery-men.

League managers possibly will have to do some hard scratching for a while to develop a battery corps compatible with the new scheme of things, inasmuch as there appears to be no redundancy of either pitchers or catchers. Consequently, the young fellow coming up in the ranks ought not experience much difficulty in lining up with almost any of the clubs if he has anything at all. And managers, on the other hand, should not hesitate in letting some of the youngsters show their stuff, providing they reveal signs of ability for that's the way baseball players are uncovered.

Pirates in Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 29.—The Pittsburgh Pirates arrived here this morning for their four-game series with the Chicago Cubs, the first of which is to be played this afternoon. Interest centered on the performance of Kiki Cuyler for the Cubs, and Sparky Adams for the Pirates, principals in a recent Pirate-Cub trade. The Buccaneers were aglow with a string of one victory, registered over Oakland yesterday, 11-5.

BISHOPS DRILL WITH ERIE CLUB

DELAWARE, O., March 29.—Ohio Wesleyan's baseball squad will face stiff workouts this week when the Erie, Pa., club of the Central league will come here for a three-weeks' spring training program against the Bishops.

The club is under the management of "Buzz" Wetzel, widely known minor league figure.

The Wesleyan team will not be disbanded during the spring recess; the first week in April but instead will remain here to work out against the Erie club. The Bishops will play their first game on April 14 against Miami at Oxford.

"Spud" Murray, a southpaw, is the newest addition to Coach George Statten's twirling staff. Murray, a football letterman, is a senior but this is his first season on the baseball squad. He was a hurler on his Washington, D. C., high school team before coming here. Murray is the only portside on the hurling corps.

Although the Bishops have been new to well fortified in several positions, the camp at first base, due to the graduation of the veteran, Buck Lamme, has been Statten's biggest worry. Potter Shaw, Meyersdale, Pa., sophomore, at present has the edge on the other candidates for the assignment.

NEW ORLEANS, March 29.—Joe Sewell, regular Cleveland shortstop, injured several days ago, is watching his team-mates work out, from a seat in the grandstand. Dan Jesse, shortstop candidate, who has been laid up three weeks, expects to don a uniform today. The tribe defeated New Orleans yesterday 4 to 3.

Threatens to Match Risko.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Jess McMahon, matchmaker for Promoter Tex Rickard, now threatens to match Johnny Risko with Gene Tunney unless Charlie Harvey, manager for Tom Heeney, agrees to a Risko-Heeney elimination bout.

Harvey has disappeared. He is reported to be enroute to Florida to obtain Rickard's approval of a Heeney-Tunney scrap.

Note

The rise of the famous San Antonio's Siamese Twins—the beautiful, cultured and lovable Hilton Sisters—is one of the marvels of the age. These talented girls, Daisy and Violet Hilton, were born inseparately joined together, at Brighton, England, in 1909, the daughters of an English Army officer. Their mother died a year after their birth. Their father was killed in Belgium in 1914. They were adopted by their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Myer Myers, who devote their entire time to the girls and their activities.

Every mother and father, every husband and wife, every son and daughter should witness the achievements of the wonderful children and then remember that life has not been a bed of roses for these little handicapped girls. The Hilton Twins play and sing now for millions for the reason that they have spent days and years at practice. They have health now as a result of their fixed habits of going to bed at 11 o'clock every night and getting up at 7 A. M., taking regular exercise in calisthenics, deep breathing, body bending and then a brisk walk whether they feel like it or not.

They are as careful about their eating as most girls about the brand of cosmetics they use. In fact they are strict vegetarians, and very much of their pep, vivaciousness and ambition to achieve is the natural result of their living clean lives, thinking wholesome thoughts and cultivating noble purposes.

MENJOU CLICKS IN "SERENADE"

If you want to see a picture you will never forget then see "Serenade," the Paramount production starring Adolphe Menjou, which opened at the Ceramic today.

The San Antonio "Siam Twins," vocalists, instrumentalists and dancers, who opened a week's engagement Monday, again won the plaudits of a large audience this afternoon.

In everybody's life there are songs that carry an association in recollection. How and why songs are linked with memories is shown in this picture, so appealingly, so convincingly, and so entertainingly that you will always remember "Serenade." It is one of the best things Menjou has ever done and it is the greatest picture in the class of idealistic romance ever presented.

Menjou deviates from his typical well-tailored characterization and is introduced as a poor Viennese composer, about to be evicted for non-payment of his rent. He meets Kathryn Carver, blonde, appealing and beautiful, when he engages a room in her home and they fall in love.

Love is the spark that touches the fire of the young artist's inspiration. His genius commands him and under the inspiration of the great romance he writes an operetta dedicated to his sweetheart. Overnight it is the sensation of all the world.

The public acclaim turns his head and he begins to neglect his wife who inspired and helped him through his

Two Girls Live On Hot Water and Rice

Because of stomach trouble, Miss A. H. and sister lived on hot water and rice. But since taking Adlerika, they say, they can eat anything and feel fine.

The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, saline, etc., (known as Adlerika), has a most surprising DOUBLE action. First, it acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only) and remove foul matter that often poisons the system for months. Second, Adlerika clears all GAS and sourness from stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition, Adlerika removes metabolic poisons which cause neuritis, rheumatism, etc.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, writes: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria and bacilli."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

It will astonish you the great amounts of poisonous matter Adlerika brings out—matter you would never believe was in your system. In chronic constipation, gas bloating, sour stomach and sick headache, just ONE spoonful Adlerika brings wonderful relief. At leading druggists. Sold in East Liverpool by Carnahan Drug Co. and other druggists.

Elect Men Who Will Stand by Constitution

—Dr. F. Scott McBride

Anti-Saloon League Chief Warns That Prohibition Sentiment Must be Mobilized Effectively at Polls.

PITTSBURGH, March 29.—Prohibition sentiment must be mobilized effectively so that "enlightened citizens will place in positions of authority from president to mayor only men who will stand by the constitution and the necessary laws for its enforcement," Dr. F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, declared in an address at Emory Methodist Episcopal church here.

"The wets want a brother wet in the White House," McBride said, "because the next president will probably appoint a majority of the members of the supreme court who pass upon the constitutionality of all prohibition legislation."

"He also chooses the secretary of the treasury, who with subordinate officers, is responsible for enforcement of prohibition; he names the attorney general, who has charge of the prosecution of the liquor criminals; he picks the secretary of state who must settle the international problems involved in liquor smuggling.

"Federal judges and the whole army of other federal officials depend upon the president for appointment."

"Once allow the liquor element to gain control of the White House and the damage they could do to the enforcement of prohibition would be irreparable."

Short Talks by Thoughtful Mothers.
A Wisconsin Mother says: "I find mothers very well informed on the subject of 'dope' in medicines. Few mothers now-a-days would buy a preparation that contained opiates or chloroform. A glance at the package before buying tells her this. With Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, the name tells a true story. It is quickly effective for coughs, colds, croup and throat irritations. Pure as it is sure, and worth many times its price. Carnahan's 3 Drug Store."

'RIGHT OF WAY' INTERPRETED BY OHIO COURT

Vehicle Driver's Duty to Use Eyes at Intersections.

LAW EXPLAINED

Rules on Question of Preference on Main Thoroughfare.

COLUMBUS, O., March 29. — Ohio laws defining "right-of-way" were interpreted by the Ohio supreme court today in decisions disposing of damage suits based upon personal injuries resulting from vehicular collisions on public highways.

"Where the driver of a vehicle upon an intersecting highway reaches a main thoroughfare, it is his, or her, duty to look both to the right and left and, if another vehicle is approaching the intersection on the main thoroughfare, it is his, or her, duty, also to wait until such other vehicle has passed before entering the intersection, unless a prudent person would have reasonable ground to believe that such other vehicle, proceeding at a lawful speed, is so far distant from the intersection that he, or she, could safely cross in advance thereof," read an opinion written by Chief Justice C. T. Marshall.

"The question whether the driver of the vehicle on the intersecting road is obliged to wait until the driver on the main thoroughfare has passed is a question for the jury, to be determined under all the circumstances of the case and under proper instructions," continued Marshall.

Judge Marshall's Opinion. "Right-of-way, as defined by Ohio law, grants a vehicle on a main thoroughfare the right to proceed uninterruptedly in the direction in which it is moving, and gives a preference to the vehicle on such main thoroughfare, but does not diminish the duty of the driver of such vehicle to proceed in a lawful manner, nor justify his disregarding another vehicle upon an intersecting thoroughfare," Judge Marshall declared.

"The law only applies where two vehicles are approaching the crossing from different directions so nearly at the same time and at such rates of speed, within lawful limits, that, if each proceeds without regard to the other, collision is reasonably to be apprehended."

COURT FIGHT ON STREET USE

J. A. Martin Asks Injunction on Grant to A. L. Pugh.

James A. Martin, East End gardner, today filed a request with Solicitor Frank Hoover, asking that he institute injunction proceedings in common pleas court "to restrain A. L. Pugh, his heirs or assigns, from blocking Ohio avenue or for using it for other than street purposes."

Martin charged that the lease of the unoccupied section of Ohio avenue was "an abuse of the power of council" and that Sections 4311-14 of the state code, prohibited this grant of city property.

Council recently approved an ordinance granting Pugh, head of the East

Liverpool Cement Block company, now operating a plant in Union street, permission to use a section of the avenue adjoining a plot of ground which he recently purchased as the site for a new block manufacturing concern. The lease provided that Pugh was to vacate the street at any time that council wished to extend Ohio avenue to the River road.

Pugh also plans to install an electric hoist to be used in unloading sand, gravel and coal from barges. Part of the excavation work for the proposed plant has been completed. Hoover explained this morning that Pugh must actually occupy the street before the application for an injunction can be filed.

FRANK COX, KENSINGTON, BEGINS ROAD IMPROVEMENT JOB IN COUNTY

Contractor, Under Direction of County Surveyor, Will do Repair Work in Western and Southern Townships.

LISBON, March 29.—The first road improvement work of the season has been started on the western patrol system by Frank Cox, of Kensington, under the direction of County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk.

Cox will do repair work on all improved county highways in western and southern townships, and will be engaged practically throughout the spring and summer.

The county commissioners recently awarded contracts for the care of all patrol systems.

The commissioners propose to improve the Leetonia-Columbiana road under the patrol contracts. The state highway department now has a crew at work on the Lincoln highway in Hanover and West townships, doing temporary repair work on the macadam section. Permanent improvement cannot be made on this road until warmer weather.

The Lincoln highway in Madison township which was cold patched last year by the state will be given attention this summer, it is said. This section is one of the roughest in the county. Much of the cold patch work has been destroyed by heavy traffic, especially in the vicinity of Madison Flats and near Rock camp.

"HEALTHY PULLET PROJECT" POPULAR

LISBON, March 29.—Exactly 100 flock owners have enrolled in the "Grow Healthy Pullet" project, according to County Agent Floyd Lower. They will receive a bulletin on "How to Raise the Chicks," six timely hints on management and a form on which to keep a record of mortality. At the end of the season they will report to the extension service the mortality and the results secured from the practices followed.

The six points emphasized in the management will be carried out as far as possible by those enrolled. They are: Start with vigorous, healthy chicks; clean brooder houses and equipment; move brooder houses to clean ground; use clean litter (free from mold); feed clean, complete ration; grow chicks separate from old stock.

The object is to help grow stronger, healthier pullets in order that greater profits may be returned to the owners.

Those wishing the service offered in the project can enroll by advising County Agent Floyd Lower at Lisbon.

Judgment Vacated.

LISBON, March 29.—Judgment returned by the court in favor of the plaintiff, Mary Ryan, against Omer Ryan and Norma Ryan for $265.50 on March 22 has been vacated by Judge W. F. Sebring

Practice for baseball at McKinley high school got underway Monday evening, in charge of Coach Thomas Vernia. Several games have been lined up. North Jackson and Colville are now booked and efforts are being made to secure Austintown and Petersburg. Regulation hardball will be played as the coach and his players believe it is more interest to fans than so-called indoor ball. Vernia said that he would have at least eight letter men to draw from and a host of new material. If Sebring comes through its season of eight games with a winning percentage, the team will be entered in a district tournament at Akron May 12.

More than 175 people attended the dance and card party at the Masonic hall Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Eastern Star.

C. C. Kiser, principal of Sebring high school and member of the county athletic association, attended a meeting of the association at Wycliffe Inn between Youngstown and Austintown Thursday evening. Members of the association and their wives enjoyed dinner after which business for the coming track season was taken up. Rules that will govern Mahoning county track meets this season were discussed. Advanced Engineering—
40 miles per hour
the day you buy it!

NEW-American Edition of STUDEBAKER'S
ERSKINE SIX
$795 f. o. b. factory

NOW for the first time a low-priced car has been developed which you can drive at 40-mile speed the day you buy it—the New American Edition of the Erskine Six.

No other car in the Erskine price class is so finely built that it may be driven at 40-mile speed when new. This is a symbol of the extra years of care-free service built into this quality automobile.

Quality Throughout

Studebaker's advanced engineering is evident in every detail of the New Erskine Six. Design is scientifically sound. High quality materials are exactly tested. Production is held to precision standards hitherto found only in the most expensive cars. And finally every Erskine Six in the course of building is checked and re-checked by hundreds of the most rigid inspections.

This new Erskine Six is the champion performer of its class—conclusively demonstrated when a stock Erskine sedan averaged better than 54 miles an hour in a 24-hour test. This set a record never equaled by any stock car under $1000.

Bigger—More Powerful

But even these authentic facts and figures cannot tell you the story of engineering triumph represented in this new American Edition of the Erskine Six. A bigger—roomier—more powerful Erskine. Comfortable—spacious—doors nearly a yard wide—rear seats 4 feet wide—62 miles an hour—nimble acceleration—thrifty of gas and oil—amplified-action 4-wheel brakes. And remember this car is Studebaker built and that speaks volumes for its quality and dependability. Test it out—NOW!

Doctor at 83 Found People Preferred His Prescription

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indisposition that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs? All

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

Women are Learning the Right Way

IF you are unfortunate in having skin blemishes, pimples, boils, eczema, you owe it to yourself and friends to remove the cause. Nature will then provide the complexion which is so much desired.

Thousands have been enabled to free themselves of unsightly blemishes and painful skin annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished.

Red blood cells are Nature's way for building and sustaining the body.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there can be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause—through the blood—and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.

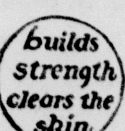

S.S.S. is Nature's own tonic for restoring the appetite—building strength—and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

Mothers:

Next to the natural laxative from a mother's breast, a plain, old-fashioned preparation is always best for keeping baby's little digestive tract clean and sweet. When your little one doesn't eat, or can't sleep, give him a few drops of plain Castoria. It is purely vegetable, you know. Any doctor will tell you that it is utterly harmless to the youngest infant. It is sweet to the taste, and sweet in the little stomach. Yet its gentle influence is soon felt all through the tiny system. Not even castor oil can compete with Castoria and how much better it is to use this milder means of regulating a baby! Never give baby paregoric or similar opiates, because, a few drops of Castoria are just as soothing, and no harm is done. That's the beauty of using pure Castoria; you can give it just as often as you discover any sign of colic, constipation, or diarrhea—or those times when you don't know just what it is that has caused an upset. Only get the genuine Castoria—bearing Fletcher's signature. It isn't expensive, and with every bottle comes the book, "Care and Feeding of Babies"—worth its weight in gold to every mother or prospective mother.

Stolen Idols

A Romance of the Sea
By Frank L. Packard.

He was listening. Queer that he should be listening—more intently, it seemed, than he had ever listened before! Was that the sound of creaking ropes? The davit tackles—as the boat was being lowered? White-faced, he gnawed at his lips. Was he going mad? How could he hear any such sound as that in here over the roar of the seas pounding on the reefs, the wrenching and the groaning of the ship itself, and the weird howling of the wind! The boat being lowered! It was much more likely that it had been already lowered—that it was already gone. Gone!

A frenzy came upon him again—and again he rolled about the floor, writhing, twisting limbs and arms, battling with maniacal strength to loosen his bonds. And then suddenly in his struggles, as he turned over and over, his hands touched something on the floor. Mechanically the tips of his fingers closed upon it. It was hard, curiously jagged, almost sharp. His mind for an instant was in confusion, and then with a low, exultant cry, he fought his way up again to a sitting posture with the object in his hands. He knew what it was now. It was one of the broken pieces of the plate that had fallen from Captain Karler's desk—one of the larger pieces—nearly half the plate.

He forced it in between his knees, clamped it there with the jagged edge outward, and, bending his body forward, began to saw at the ropes around his wrists. The edge of the plate wasn't sharp enough—it didn't cut—it frayed the strands. It would sever them in time of course—but it was taking too long. He fought back an almost panicky impatience. The thought that but a moment ago his release had seemed hopeless, whereas now it was eventually sure, did little to calm him. He was in desperate haste. It was taking too long! Only one strand severed so far! Had the boat gone? If it had, what was the use of this? He couldn't reach Vernia then—they would reach her—unless the Baalu first took toll of them. That would be the one chance—while, as a reward for freedom, he merely strapped on a futile life-belt and waited for the Monotah to go down. Fool! Did it do him any good to torture himself—could it make the maximum of effort any the greater! It was only a very short while since the Chinamen had left the cabin—much shorter than it seemed. Only a bare two or three minutes at the outside! The boat wasn't gone—it couldn't be gone. It wouldn't be fair. It would be a God, not of justice and mercy, and infinite love, but a God of stark, abominable cruelty. Who would have done this—flung her, a white woman, as a prey to the maws of these yellow brutes!

One strand was severed—another. Teeth clenched, the sweat pouring from him, he sawed with bitter persistence at the rope. Now and then, unable to see in the darkness, it was his wrists, not the rope, that made contact with the broken edge of the plate. The blood poured from them. The plate was sharp enough for that!

Another strand parted—and now the rope itself. His hands were free now. It was but the work of an instant to loosen the knots around his ankles and shake off the rope from his legs. And now he was on his feet. There was no numbness in his legs. He had not been long enough bound, and, besides, his own struggles had kept his blood even violently in circulation. He was conscious of a sense of relief that this was so, as he swung the door open, and sprang out on deck.

The cabin door opened to starboard; and the one remaining boat, if it remained at all now, was around on the other side of the ship—but, scarcely a step from the cabin door, Bob Kingsley halted. The pajama-clad form of Captain Karler lay there before him. Yes! He had counted on this! The revolver was still clutched in the dead commander's outstretched hand. Quickly, swiftly, Bob Kingsley possessed himself of the weapon. Cartridges! The revolver might be empty—every shot in it fired! More than likely! But Captain Karler, in so critical a situation, would almost surely have provided himself with an extra supply. There was only one pocket in a suit, or pajamas. He felt quickly in under the Captain's body, his fingers searching with feverish haste for the breast pocket. Yes, here it was! And the cartridges, too! A box of them!

He was working with mad haste now. He opened the box and thrust the cartridges loose into his pocket, as he started on a run for the other side of the deck. And, as he ran, he "broke" the revolver, ejecting the shells, whether good or bad, from its chambers, and reloaded the weapon. It perhaps retarded him for a few seconds, but he dared not risk an already exploded shell. His life, and therefore hers, might depend upon it just as surely as it would depend on—

He hung suddenly, gray of face and motionless, against the port side of the forward deck-house, the revolver dangling aimlessly in his hand.

The boat was gone!

CHAPTER 23.

For a fraction of a second, for the space of time it takes a watch to tick, he stood there as though mentally and physically stunned. And then virility of both mind and body surged back upon him, and he leaped across the deck. The boat, it was true, had disappeared from sight, but it was not free of the ship—the davit tackles were still fast!

He reached the edge of the deck, and, clutching one of the davits, leaned over the ship's side. There it was! The boat, about half-filled with Malays, and being rapidly lowered, was some ten or fifteen feet below him. The Chinamen were manning the tackles—Chen-shu, in the stern, was shouting orders and directions, his voice as shrill now as the screaming of a wild gull that it might carry over the sweep of the wind.

Instantly Bob Kingsley jumped.

He landed, sprawling among the occupants, almost in the midships of the boat; but the next instant he had picked himself up, and found a seat for himself. The Chinamen had seen him leap from the boat deck, of course; Chen-shu had seen him—but they were far too busy now in an effort to save their own lives to pay any heed to him. That would come afterwards—if there were any afterwards!

A confusion of pictures, kaleidoscope, so swift in sequence as to be almost simultaneous, visualized themselves before his eyes—telegraphing an equal confusion of clung to the child, and she also messages to his brain, some of which seemed, in the face of the others, to be of so little consequence that they were merely an absurd intrusion. Just forward of him was a woman with a young child of four or five in her arms. The woman clung wildly to a man beside her. They were obviously a family. What possible difference did that make! Chen-shu was standing up in the stern. The other Chinamen were still at the tackles. Some of the Malays had apparently been told off to man the oars and were even now fending off from the ship's side. The boat was almost at water-level now—the crest of the waves licking at her keel. There was a little lee here—but very little.

And then Bob Kingsley smiled queerly as he became conscious that he was sitting there passively and doing nothing—and with, not an oar, but a revolver in his hand. A bit futile for the moment—a revolver! He placed it in his pocket. There weren't any more oars, however; they all seemed to have been allotted—even to the Chinamen at the tackles who each appeared to have one ready at hand for instant use the moment the boat was cast off. There wasn't anything to do. Chen-shu screamed out suddenly, shrilly from the stern. There was a swish of water, a curiously unbalanced rocking motion—and then, the tackles loosed, the boat shot forward half buried in a foaming wave. The Chinamen had snatched up their oars and, with the Malay, were rowing madly. Spray like a thick mist, blotted out the Monotah. A roar and thunder of breaking water, louder somehow than it had been when heard from the ship's deck, deadened every other sound.

The smile was still on Bob Kingsley's lips, but it was one of grim tribute now to Chen-shu's seamanship. If Chen-shu could successfully accomplish the perilous maneuvers of getting the boat away from the ship's side in a boiling sea, Chen-shu could safely be entrusted with the rest if any man could. But the Baalu Reef was not the Monotah!

These little green capsules go after the swelling and the pain in the right way—the knock-out way. One little capsule an hour for the first 10 hours; then continue as directed until every little twinge and every bit of tenderness is gone.

Just ask for Allenhu Number 2—Substitutes and imitations may be offered you but remember, it's the "little green capsule" that is turning the trick and bringing joy to thousands of Rheumatic sufferers, so insist on Allenhu No. 2.

Carnahan's Drug Stores or any reputable druggist in America will be glad to supply you.

"LIFER" NEAR DEATH AFTER PRISON BREAK

Bryan Keenan, 27, Cleveland Slayer Shot Down.

CRASHES GATE Tower Guard Stops Fugitive With Bullet From Shotgun.

COLUMBUS, March 29.—Bryan Keenan, 27, Cleveland gangster and convicted murderer, lay unconscious and near death on a cot in the Ohio penitentiary hospital here today, following an unsuccessful attempt to escape from the penal institution late Tuesday. Prison physicians say Keenan cannot recover as the shotgun slug that felled him, split the dome of the fugitive's liver.

Keenan was serving life for the killing of John Rau, a Cleveland bakery wagon driver. Keenan was a member of the penitentiary band and as such spent his days in the idle house.

When an unloaded gravel truck was left standing near a gate with motor running, yesterday afternoon, Keenan ran to the truck, threw it into gear and sent it crashing through a stockade gate, toward an outer portal.

The mad prisoner swerved the heavy truck from the path of a second truck whose driver attempted to block Keenan's path, and in another moment the truck had battered through a street gate. The motor stalled but Keenan jumped to the street and ran until a bullet from the shotgun of Tower Guard John Conrad felled him.

"Don't shoot," gasped Keenan as Guard H. C. Oppen approached with pistol ready for action. Keenan fainted and was carried to the prison hospital.

It combines the curative influence of pure pine tar and the mollifying demulcent action of fresh clear honey with other healing ingredients. A boon to those who suffer from troublesome night coughs. Patterson Apartment Building Work Rushed

Second and Third Floors of Structure at East Sixth and Walnut Streets are Remodeled.

New apartments on the second and third floors of the former Patterson Foundry & Machine company building, East Sixth street and Walnut streets, will be ready for occupancy within about six weeks.

The building will have eight apartments, each consisting of four rooms and a bath. The structure will be heated by steam from a plant in the Turk-Nash company's garage. Each apartment will have electric refrigeration, incinerators and built-in fixtures. Floors and finish will be in hardwood. Entrance to the apartments, four on the second floors and an equal number on the third floor, will be from the Sixth street side of the building.

A novel rough-texture interior decoration will be used.

The wall and ceiling decoration will be of four pastel shades—cream, orchid, ivory and putty. The texture will be of a modified stipple, a refined effect that provides an effective background of any type of furniture and drapes.

The medium being used to achieve this effect is a special tinted plaster that makes decoration possible with the finish coat of plaster. This material offers a wide choice of color; almost any rough texture-effect can be reproduced in it; and the colors are even and unfading, due to the fact that the color used is mineral pigment, which is mixed with the other materials as the plaster is manufactured.

Sixteen tons of the tinted plaster are being used by the building, owned by R. L. Cawood.
